

LITERACY EDUCATION, M.ED.

ALL IN

TEACH AND LEAD WITH EXPERTISE IN LITERACY EDUCATION

Are you ready to earn your professional certification and master your craft? Go all in and earn your master's degree in Literacy!

Through this affordable and accessible program, you can advance your career and fill the growing need for reading specialists. Caring faculty will mentor you, investing in your character as much as your pedagogical skills.

Specialize as a Literacy professional, such as an interventionist, teacher, specialist, or coach. Become equipped to meet the unique needs of all students. Take the first step toward earning your professional degree today.

HIGHLIGHTS

- One of the most affordable private programs
- Practica hours are built into coursework
- Relevant and current content tied to the most recent professional standards

OUTCOMES

- 95% pass rate on the New York State Literacy Exam*
- The average Literacy Teacher salary in New York, NY is $72,982**
- Deepen your skills in teaching literacy and leading school-wide literacy programs

*based on academic years 2021-2022

**<https://www.salary.com/research/salary/recruiting/literacy-teacher-salary/new-york-ny>

11-22 months completion time

30 program credits

$840 cost per credit (+fees)

Online format

Start in August, January+, & May

Part-time and full-time options

+ January: part-time, 15 month option only

Accreditation // Regional: Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE); Professional: Association for Advancing Quality in Educator Preparation (AAQEP)

ROBERTS
WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Adult and Graduate Admissions

2301 Westside Drive
Rochester, NY 14624-9974

(585) 594-6600 | (800) 777-4792
AGE-Admissions@roberts.edu
www.roberts.edu/MED-LIT